President's Message

This past month we lost a long standing member of our community, Danny Klass. In speaking with the family before his death and after, I was reminded of the following words about mourning:

How does one respond to the loss of a loved one? There are as many ways to grieve as there are members of the human family.

Some will weep incessantly; others will not weep at all.

Some will insist on a full seven days of shiva; others will observe three days, just one day – or none at all.

Some will seek privacy; others will find comfort in the company of fellow-mourners and friends.

Some will talk, tell stories, or share cellphone photos unceasingly; others will listen or speak sparingly, with their cellphones out of sight.

Some will follow the prayers and blessings of a shiva minyan with fervour; others will sit or stand quietly and respectfully, with or without a siddur in their hands.

Some visitors will remain with mourning family members for a few minutes; others will make an evening of it – and every evening of it. And some, for reasons too complex to pursue, will not visit at all.

Templates for mourning? There are none. Each in our own way will experience grief and carry in us the soul of our deceased loved ones, thankful for their having been a part of our lives.

With our knowing about the escalating violence in Israel and in our neighbour to the south, grief seems increasingly to be part of life. I am happy to be able to look forward to Pesach with my family and to getting back to visiting with friends I haven't seen for a while. Taking shalach monas seems like a good way to start¹ the process. Hamantashen are baking as I write.

Temple Programs

On Saturday, March 18, Anita Moeller will host Movie Night at the Temple. The evening's entertainment will be Footnote, a film which won the Best Screenplay Award at the 2011 Cannes Film Festival. "Brimming with dry Jewish humour and absurdist comedy set pieces that would make Larry David envious, Footnote is an intelligent gem. Eliezer (Shlomo Bar Aba) and his son Uriel (Lior Ashkenazi) are both professors of Talmud at Hebrew University in Jerusalem. When Uriel wins a prestigious scholarly prize instead of his father, long-festering jealousy and wounded pride threaten to upend their familial bond. You'll never look at talmudic scholars the same way again." – Leora Heilbronn, Canadian Jewish News
Directed by Joseph Cedar with English subtitles. Running time 107 minutes.

The show starts at 7:00. Snacks are involved!

SAVE THE DATE:

Thursday, April 20, 7:00 pm at Temple Shalom

Meet the two Czech Torah Scrolls that survived the Holocaust and came to Winnipeg congregations. Hear their stories from representatives of the Memorial Scrolls Trust (UK), Congregation Shaarey Zedek, Temple Shalom, and the Jewish Heritage Centre. More information to follow soon.

Have you ever wanted to find out how to make matzoh and make your very own for the seder plate? Here is your opportunity:

April 2 at 1:00 pm in the Social Hall
This hands-on workshop will be led by our own members, Michael and Brian Doob who have been making their own matzoh for decades!
All materials will be provided.

Temple Shalom is once again having an in-person seder. Please mark the date for Friday, April 7. More information to follow soon. Please join us for the fun way to mark our Freedom.

As we indicated we would some time ago, we have reviewed our mask policy and think it is time to stop requiring masks at Temple Shalom. We are one of the very few places still requiring masks and there is a sense that the logic of the requirement no longer exists. We are currently requiring people to wear masks in the sanctuary, but the same people remove their masks when downstairs in the Social Hall.

We know that influences all of you, however, on balance, we have decided we will no longer require masks at the Temple. We will now recommend and strongly encourage people to continue to wear masks when in the building. We will continue to have masks available for anyone who needs one. We will reserve the first 3 rows in the sanctuary for individuals wearing masks. The new mask policy will go into effect on Friday, March 10 in time for Shabbat Across Winnipeg.

Thanks to all of you as we continue to respond to Covid and its aftermath.

Planned Giving and Temple Shalom

Securities: Donate securities, which have matured, but on which you prefer not to pay capital gains. When a security is donated, there is no tax on the capital gain, and a charitable tax receipt is issued for the full amount. This donation benefits you, while helping the Temple.

Israel Bonds: Celebrate by building for the future with the State of Israel's promise of a bond!

Israel Bonds may be given as gifts, in either CDN or US!

Israel Bonds can be registered jointly in the name of Temple Shalom and are 100% self-directed RRSP, RRIF, TFSA & RESP eligible. Pledge cards are available on the table in the lobby near the sanctuary.

Estate Planning: We are grateful to those donors who remember Temple Shalom with Bequests. These gifts contribute significantly to the Temple's long-term financial well-being and help ensure its success in our Jewish Community and as a representative of the Reform Movement in Canada.

As you make plans for your estate, we hope that you will consider a bequest to Temple Shalom.
